Sunday Morning Services in the Near Term

I want to set some expectations for folks on upcoming Sunday services. Paul's Sundays with us are likely to be sporadic, for health reasons. He officiated at Nancy Medley's funeral service last Saturday with Eucharist, homily, graveside service, and lunch afterwards. Sunday we had Morning Prayer as Paul needed some time to re-charge. Back-to-back services are too much right now. When Paul is not available, Morning Prayer or different clergy in the pulpit when I can arrange them, is becoming a new reality at Advent. I am reaching out and networking with a pretty wide bandwidth to find theologically-aligned, Bible-centric, retired supply priests who are ordained and whose beliefs and values align with God's Word and those of Advent. Choices are very limited – Episcopal, Lutheran, Methodist, etc. I'm exploring Anglican support. Others of you are reaching out through your own contact network and I encourage and welcome that. If you know of folks, please pass their contact information to me and I'll take it from there. Fr. Abraham will help in a pinch, but he has a full-time job and is on hospice call with the Clinic which can mean Sundays or whenever death calls. And he covers a broad territory requiring a lot of travel. In the meantime, I ask your ongoing support to faithfully support worship at Advent as best we can provide through Paul, different supply clergy, and Morning Prayer. I know this uncertainty is not what you want to hear but, thankfully, we have a worshipping community who loves the Lord, we live in a country where we are not persecuted for our beliefs, and we have a supportive fellowship at Advent. Know that Advent vestry is working to provide the Sunday worship experience that we've come to cherish.

Peace,
Dick
